

ANNUAL MEETING
CHAMBER OF COMMERCEW. I. Betts is Again the President and All Old Officers
Are Re-elected Again

WORK ON CIVIC IMPROVEMENT

The regular annual meeting of the Clearfield Chamber of Commerce was held last evening at their rooms in the County National Bank building.An unusually large attendance, in fact more than was expected, was present to participate in the business of the evening.President W. I. Betts called the meeting to order and after disposing of the routine matter called for nominations for officers for the ensuing year. After a great deal of discussion W. I. Betts was reelected president. O. Bruce Porter, treasurer and A. W. Lee, A. E. Litzinger, Charles
T. Kurtz and F. B. Kerr to the board of governors.President Betts then outlined the work of the chamber of commerce during the past year.Owing to the labor situation and the general condition of business affairs there will be no effort made until a change in these conditions comes about to get any new industries for Clearfield. There is no idle labor in Clearfield. No vacant houses to take care of the additional working men and their families and as a general rule business firms are so busy in their present locations that it would be hard to get them to consider any change under present conditions.The work of the chamber of commerce, however, will not cease. The organization will be kept intact and all the energy of the chamber of commerce will be directed towards civic problems.All present voiced their intention of backing up the park proposition and letting no stone be turned until it is an up-to-date pleasure park with swimming pools, athletic grounds, and amusements. Other matters spoken of were questions on health, cleanliness, beauty and convenience
for the citizens of Clearfield.

WIFE DESERTER LANDED

Daniel Little, of Cooper township discovered that Judge Bell makes no idle threat when in sentencing men for wife desertion he tells them that the order of the court in cases of this kind must be complied with or the errant husband will be brought back to Clearfield county to face the music from any state or territory over which "old glory" proudly floats.Little deserted his family and thought to escape by going out of the state. He was lately located at Niagara Falls, New York, and a bench warrant placed in the hands of Deputy Sheriff Joseph A. Smith who shipped quietly into the northern city, surprised Mr. Little at his work and yanked him back to the banks of the Susquehanna where Sheriff McCloskey's men will stuff him with beans and trimmings until further disposal is made of his case.

'CONFLICTING TESTIMONY'

By J. P. Yoder

Wash Jan 10.—The first "conflicting testimony" in the note leak problem came up when Archie Jamieson, reporter for the central news, testified "that Secretary Lansing had said he was giving us the information because he did not want it to come back in garbled form from abroad and in judicially effect the market."Representative Tamm then read Secretary Lansing's testimony to the effect that "he had not had the market in mind."

AN EXTRA WEEK OF COURT

Judge Bell yesterday issued an order providing for a special week of court during the coming February term. This court will be for the trial of special civil causes and is scheduled for the week beginning February 26. The jury commissioners draw the necessary jurors today.

ACCEPTED RESIGNATION

The school board at Clearfield recently accepted the resignation of Prof. Rockwell, director of music in the school, for the past several years.

DESCRIBES MAN'S MOVEMENTS

Cleveland, Jan. 10.—(By United Press)—T. C. Brown the traveling salesman who saw the murderer of Maizie Colbert leap from her apartment window said positively today that Bernard W. Lewis was not the man he saw leaping from the Wilton apartment window. Brown was shown pictures of Lewis and was fully described by one of the latter's personal friends. Brown later saw the man on a Philadelphia to Washington train and heard him called by name.Brown's statement was voluntary.
"I and J. M. Marshall, another traveling salesman," he said "were in front of the Wilton apartments at 10.30 on the night of the murder.""We heard scuffling about in one of the rooms, and we stopped for a few seconds, then we saw a man leap from one of the apartment windows on a side street. He carried his coat over his arm and he seemed excited. He jumped into our arms and we grabbed him but let him go as he said he and his wife had had a fight. The man had a big diamond in the front of his shirt. I left Philadelphia the next day for Washington and on the same train I saw the man who had jumped from the apartment window.
He still wore the big diamond. Another friend of mine called him by name. I did not learn of the murder for several days then after Lewis killed himself I saw a statement by James McFadyen. After that I decided to write McFadyen and clear Lewis."Brown said for personal reasons he could not give his business connections or his home.Two DuBois Banks

National bank and also that of the DuBois National bank were held yesterday and many changes were made in the officers of each institution.In the case of the Deposit National bank the only change in the directorate was the election of G. W. Olmstead, leather manufacturer of Ludlow. Owing to the advance age of R.
I. Moore who has served as president since 1895 he was appointed as chairman of the board and M. L. McCright was elected to the presidency. B. B.
McCright was promoted to the vice presidency and John Q. Groves to the office of cashier.At the DuBois National, W. L.

Washington, Jan. 10.—(By United

of the White House today placed pickets on the lawn in front of the mansion grounds at ten o'clock.
Shortly after the arrival of the "silent sentinels" a discussion was held in the White House to discuss ways and means to disperse the women should a demonstration occur and should the "silent sentinels" become a crowd about the grounds.At 10.30 this morning President Wilson returned from his morning round of golf and the women at the west side. The "silent sentinel" did not receive any notice from the White House and the President had passed. The sentinels had kept silent with their backs to the

could be plainly seen by the Presi-

Enemy About the Head

MEN WERE ON BAD TERMS

John Morris, a well known resident of Morrisdale, was in the Cottage State hospital at Philadelphia at the close of Sunday night, having been injured in a cutting affray which occurred in the Morrisdale hotel about 10.30 o'clock last night.Morris' assailant was an Italian named Pete Serano, who had been in the hotel for some time. The two men were on bad terms and had been fighting for some time. The fight occurred in the hotel and Serano was the victor. He was injured about the head and was taken to the hospital.

on the charge of slaying Frederick Jump, Jr., of Kansas City in the Mc-Alpin Hotel of New York."That was the statement of Harry Thaw's mother, Mrs. Thaw, who stated that Thaw was going to New York but he said that Thaw had not been in the city for 48 hours.Shortly after the Thaw family, through Stone, issued a statement

WEDNESDAY EVENING, JANUARY 10, 1917

Wonder what difference there is between "Broadway after Dark" and "Market (Clearfield) after Dark."

Kenesaw Mountain Landis Reubenstein Is Label says a North American headline this morning. Sounds to us more like a libel.

The Opera House Management announces that they are bringing "Civilization" to Clearfield the later part of this month. We thought we had it. Some nerve they have.

Wouldn't it be a relief to be rid of Harry K. Thaw, Thomas W. Lawson and Lloyd George in the news? We do not mean to put them all in the same class but we would prefer to hear something about some others once in a while.

Having the interests of the citizens at heart, Mr. W. I. Betts is the logical man to head the Chamber of Commerce for the coming year, and so much more from the fact that the policy as outlined by its members is one with which he is wholly in accord.

Old Man Booze is surely getting "groggy". Waller after wallop has been handed to him during the past few weeks. He is down and the referee has counted eight. Chief Justice White handed him a beauty and the Senate followed it up with a sure enough solar plexus.

Old Rip woke up about Guinea Hill, casually rubbed his eyes and remarked, "It smells old fashioned about here. I wonder where I am." Walking down the hill, he saw a myriad of small specks and decided to investigate. Coming closer to town he was overjoyed to find it was the lights of Clearfield, no brighter than they were twenty years ago.

We do so love to pick our steps across the street to the Post Office, then up Market and across to the Denning, then across to the Court House, then across to No. 1 Fire Company and continue on our rounds about town. It reminds us of boyhood days when "Old Boesey" got loose in the barnyard and we had to plout right through to get the manger rope around her neck. Talk about getting back to nature. The stock raiser has nothing on us.

The Pennsylvania State Legislature was in session one day thus far in the session of 1917 and the reports of the State Treasurer's office show that our impecunious lawmakers have already "horned into" the pay chest for an advance of $76,500 on their salaries for the term. The average Pennsylvania legislator may not know much law but little about anything else, but nobody on earth can eat him to the "public tit" for his share of "pap."

SAFE AND SANE

There was no crashing of cymbals, no circus publicity, no red fire, no lunch to beguile the uninterested, not even a free smoke was handed out as about two score whole hearted workers in the body of the Chamber of Commerce met last evening and unanimously decided to continue the organization and decided on a policy of civic work for Clearfield during the coming year. It sounds to us like getting down to brass tacks. The Chamber of Commerce is something more than a raiser of smoke stacks and an organization confined to merchants. The professional man and the worker will benefit by the program mapped out for the future.

TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

Look Young! Bring Back Its Natural Color, Gloss and Attractiveness

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and brilliant. Just a few applications will prove revelation if your hair is falling, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur, recipe at home, though, is doubtful. An easier way is to get a 50-cent bottle of Wyck's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While waxy, gray faded hair is not sinful we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyck's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time by moving all gray hairs have disappeared, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.

This preparation is a delightful and yet temperate and is not intended for the entire eradication of premature hair.

LES DAVEY NOW AN ACTOR

According to the published figures, Davey is to receive $5,000 a week, which is the largest salary ever paid a pugilist for appearing on the stage. The tour is to include brief engagements in Philadelphia, Boston, Providence, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Detroit, Chicago, Cincinnati, St. Paul and a number of other of the principal cities of the country.

LABOR WILL FIGHT POLICE INCREASE

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 10.—Legislation will be introduced early in the next session to provide for two additional state police, probably two new troops or perhaps to divide the now rapidly increasing force into two units.

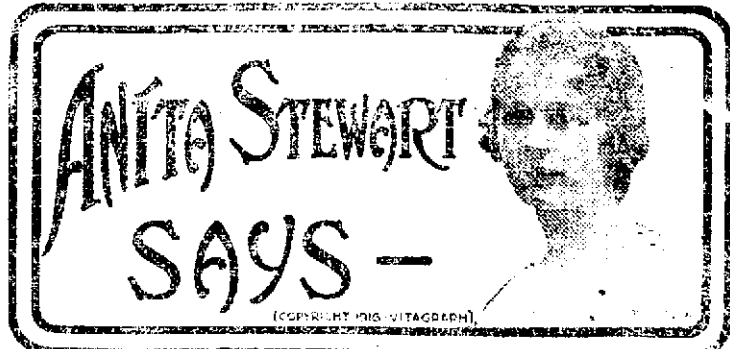

This will be one of the big battles of the assembly. Organized labor is bitterly opposed to the organization because of strike duty. There are about forty unions now in Pennsylvania, most of which are in the police force. The police matter was one of the operations which the state federation of labor submitted to all legislatures for the legislature last year.

BOSTON DOCTOR GOES UP FOR LIFE FOR MURDER

DR. ELBRIDGE G. ATWOOD

Dr. Elbridge G. Atwood, a prominent physician, was sentenced to life imprisonment for the murder of William F. Thomas, president of the Massachusetts College of Osteopathy, on Jan. 10. Atwood was the first of the three men who were charged with the murder of Thomas, who had been engaged to be married to the daughter of a prominent Boston family. Atwood was said to have confessed to the crime, but his wife, who was also charged, was found not guilty. The case was one of the most sensational in the history of the college.

THAT UNFORGETTABLE FIRST WHITE-UP

"I'll never forget even if I live to be a thousand years, the first interview that I ever gave. I was sitting in the girl's dressing-room at the Vitagraph studios making up for my second role of some importance after 'The Wood Violet' my first goal on the ladder of success.

Well, as I said, I was making up the night before, I was making up. Mother flustered into the general dressing room and told me that a representative from one of the motion picture magazines was outside and wanted to interview me.

"What about it?" said I looking up a little puzzled.

"I don't know, dear—you'd better ask her to come in for yourself," said mother with a smile for she knew that if I didn't quite realize what was expected of me I would be sure to blunder.

Going to the door in answer to a knock I found a very sweet young girl outside who said she just wanted to talk to me for a while. So many wonderful things had happened to me about that time that nothing puzzled me long.

"Why come right in," I answered trying to appear cordial, for I knew in what a chaotic condition the girls had left the big dressing-room, while the maizine woman looked so neat and cool. "I'm afraid you won't find things very orderly here but the girls here in such a hurry when they get a call that things do get a bit confused."

Then we talked until my director sent for me. I couldn't tell you a single thing I had said a minute after she left the room.

However when I saw the article in a magazine a short time afterward it all came back to me, and I'll keep the story always as a memory of my first interview.

The interviews are very different now, for I have a dear little dressing-room to myself where I can chat while I offer my visitor a little afternoon tea or refreshment. But, do you know, the first interview will always be the best to me, no matter how wonderful other interviews may be. My memory of it will ever be indelible and pleasant. In the line of interviews it is my "first love."

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

We eat too much meat which clogs kidneys, then the back hurts.

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the lungs, need sleep and should not be overworked. Occasionally, also, we have backache and feel misery in the kidney region. Severe headache, theumatic rheumatism, rapid liver, and stomach disorders, and all sorts of bladder troubles.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jaid Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for five days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with bicarb and is harmless. It flushes clogged kidneys and stimulates them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates. Thus ending bladder disorders.

Jaid Salts is harmless, inexpensive, makes a delicious effervescent lemon-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well known local druggist says he sells lots of Jaid Salts to folks who have been overworked. Kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

FISH JOIN THE WAR BRIDES

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 10.—Fish have at last taken the elevator route.

The problem of the fish, who, according to the poor man's friend, became the best to join the army of our bridges, has now been solved by the fish.

Today most species of fish are reported at 100 per cent advance in price. The price of cod fish, for example, has been raised from eight cents to ten cents per pound.

THAT OLD SAW

"I never saw a saw, saw like this saw," can be truthfully applied to the S-I-M-O-N-D-S saws, which are built Mechanically Right. Simonds says hang correctly, are ground perhaps closer to gauge, and therefore hang higher in the hand, than any other make of saw on the market.

Every saw bearing the Simonds Trade-Mark is absolutely guaranteed against any and all defects, and is made to retail at a moderate price.

UNIQUE ROLE OF NORMA TAYLOR IN NEW PLAY

Triangle Star Sacrifices Appearance and Reputation in role to be shown at the Opera House Friday Night

In "The Social Secretary" the Triangle feature to be shown at the Opera House on Friday evening, Norma Talmage is starred in a play entirely different from any of the others in which she has appeared and in a part which is both unique and interesting.

She is seen as a beautiful young woman who has to earn her own living and is pestered by the unrelenting attention of every man for whom she works. After having left a half dozen positions on account of these persistent persecutions she answers the advertisement of a wealthy woman who wants a social secretary.

Before doing so she dresses her self in such a way that no one would suspect her of being beautiful. She pulls her hair straight back, puts on heavy rimmed round glasses, paints away every line on her face and turns off the general effect by wearing a commonplace, ugly dress and shoes. She gets the job and finds in the household where she is employed a son and a daughter, the former the victim of bad habits, the latter about to sell herself to a very poor specimen of foreign nobility for his somewhat furnished title.

After many complications and adventures in which she sacrifices her reputation to save the daughter, she saves all besides clearing her name and winning a husband in the bargain. 4,10-26

"THE MISSING CHAPTER"
Special at the Globe Theatre Tomorrow

Giving His Bond—To save the girl he loves, Race ventures on Life's precipice.

Unknown to the girl, he sacrifices the girl and goes his way.

Frantic with exceptional heartrending values and sensational realism, this adventure shows a love story and a grand old-fashioned love story.

To see how he wins the admiration of his uncle, and captures the girl of his dreams, after a thrilling adventure and a more thrilling love story, makes a happy, fiery, wonderful romance. You must see the last one to see them all together.

"The Ten Minute" the local talent comedy for benefit of No. 1 Fire company will be shown at the Clearfield Opera House January 22nd and 23rd.

Jump from Bed in Morning and Drink Hot Water

Tells why everyone should drink hot water each morning before breakfast.

Why is man and woman, half the time, feeling nervous, despondent, worried, some days headache, dull and untrusting, some days really incapacitated by illness.

If we would all practice inside-bathing, what a gratifying change would take place. Instead of thousands of half-sick, anemic-looking souls with listless, muddy complexions, we should see crowds of happy, healthy, rosy-checked people everywhere. The reason is that the human system does not red itself each day of all the waste which it accumulates under our present mode of living. For every ounce of food and drink taken into the system, an ounce of waste material must be carried out, else it ferments and forms poisonous poisons which are absorbed into the blood.

Just as necessary as it is to clean the ashes from the furnace each day, before the fire will burn bright and hot, so we must, each morning, clear the inside organs of the previous day's accumulation of indigestible waste and body toxins. Man and woman, whether sick or well, are advised to drink each morning, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a tablespoonful of limestone phosphate in it, as a harmless means of washing out of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the indigestible material, waste, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Millions of people who had their turn at constipation, bilious attacks, acid stomach, nervous days and sleepless nights have become real cranks about the morning inside bath. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will not cost much at the drug store, but is sufficient to demonstrate to anyone, its cleansing, sweetening and freshening effect upon the system.

SAYS MAN SHOULD NOT MARRY UNTIL HE'S 100

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 10.—Because women forget to have birth days the wiser than man, W. Earl Flynn, health evangelist, told this to his followers here.

"Any man who has a birthday after he's forty is a fool," Flynn declared. Flynn, who is 83, and the truth is not far from that when men would not think of getting married until they were one hundred years old.

"If a man takes care of himself, he will stay a boy," when he passes the century mark," the fully Sunday of Flynn said. "He'll at that age be old enough to get married."

OUR NEIGHBORS

CURWENSVILLE

Don't forget there will be a meeting of the Republican club Thursday evening.

C. Thornton Hile and wife, former residents, were up from the county seat yesterday.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Echart at their home in Arnoldtown the later part of the week.

Prof. Dickie will hold a musical in the Baptist church Thursday, Jan. 25, under the auspices of the Ladies Aid.

Miss Mary Cadman one of the efficient clerks in Leitzinger Bros. store was a recent visitor at the home of her mother on Ridge avenue.

Mrs. Eliza Jane Bailey who has been making her home with Mrs. John Middleton for several weeks, is reported as being on the sick list.

Henry Stockbridge, who has been on the sick list for some time, which mention has been made of, is not as well as reported a few days ago.

In the lineup of county district physicians appointed for the coming year, Dr. H. O. King will minister to the needy in Pike township and Curwensville.

John Caldwell, the noted hunter, has been housed in for several days at the home of his sister Mrs. John Myers suffering a severe attack of rheumatism.

Mrs. Harry Robison and daughter, Mrs. Nettie Farwell of South Side left Tuesday for Meadville, Crawford county where they will visit relatives and friends for some time.

Mrs. Honor Barney who has been visiting her sister Mrs. John Middleton and other relatives in town, returned to the home of her daughter, Mrs. William Eltringham in DuBois yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Evert, the latter's mother Mrs. Riley and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hile attended the funeral of little Charles Riley at Ladose on Sunday.

Modest Abeno whose illness was made mention of a few days ago, was taken to Pittsburgh Sunday to consult a specialist as to his mysterious ailment. Modest is a brother of the well known and up-to-date barber, Louis Abeno on Filbert street. It is hoped that he will soon be restored to good health.

The Keystone Cornet band, we promise to be one of the best bands in the county for the coming summer, have purchased new music and will add five new members to their ranks which will make the band stronger than ever before. The boys are noted for their fine music, having won several prizes at the different public gatherings. Following are the newly elected officers for the year 1917: President..... George W. OSCEOLA MILLS

A. S. Cross, of Retort, was a business visitor in town Tuesday evening.

The physicians of our town are kept busy day and night attending to the sick of the community.

Dr. McKim has returned from a visit to his former home in New York.

The funeral of Mrs. S. T. Lewis was held Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 and was largely attended. The casket was taken from the parsonage into the church at 1 o'clock where the remains were viewed by hundreds of people who had known this splendid woman during her life. The service was conducted by Rev. R. P. Miller, of Philadelphia who made a fitting tribute to the much Christian character of the deceased. He was assisted by the service by Rev. John Miller, of H. W. and Rev. H. H. C. of the M. E. church. Other persons out of town who were present were Mrs. Miller, Charles R. H. and John Edwards, of Philadelphia, and Mrs. F. H. H. of Altoona. Mr. and

BROKERS AND OFFICIALS MENTIONED IN STOCK DEAL

JOSEPH P. TUMULTY
BERNARD M. BARUCH
OYTO. H. KAHN
KER. W. H. WOOD OF IND.

Representative William R. Wood of Indiana told the Rules Committee of the House of Representatives, Friday, Jan. 5, what he knew about the alleged stock deals said to have grown from interviews of Secretary of State Lansing and President Wilson's peace note Dec. 21. A letter he read signed "A. Curtis," and purporting to come from a Wall Street broker, mentioned Barney M. Baruch, a well-known speculator on the New York Stock Exchange. The letter also said Joseph P. Tumulty, secretary to President Wilson, had eaten breakfast with Baruch at the Biltmore Hotel, in New York, about the time of the note and interviews. Mr. Wood asked that Otto H. Kahn, member of the big firm of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., be subpoenaed to tell if he had advance information about the notes.

Mrs. William Pollock of Houtzdale and Mrs. L. Campbell and Mrs. C. O. Mattern of Drane. The many beautiful flowers were a silent token of the esteem in which she was held. Interment was made in the Umbria cemetery. An escort from the I. O. O. F. lodge accompanied to the cemetery the automobile in which Rev. Lewis and members of his family were conveyed.

Postmaster Woods and daughter Miss Gladys spent today in Clearfield.

William Gensler of this place is now mine boss at the Kelly Bros. mines below here.

Mrs. Harry Rowles and children spent yesterday with relatives in Glen Echo.

Misses Sadie and Minerva Bloom, of Meadville took supper Sunday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Farley Scott.

James P. McGilly, eastern manager of the Kelly Bros. Coal Co. of Philadelphia, is in town looking after the interests of their mines here.

A car driven by Robert Scott in which were three other persons, skidded and upset into the road near here, while on their way to Meadville Sunday evening. None of the occupants were badly hurt.

GRADE CROSSING HEARING

Harrisburg, Jan. 10.—Four special sessions of the Pennsylvania railroad commission will be held at Harrisburg today to hear testimony in the case of the proposed grade crossing at Meadville. The case involves the proposed crossing of the Meadville and Erie roads at Meadville. The commission is to hear testimony from the Meadville and Erie roads, and from the Pennsylvania railroad. The case is expected to be decided by the end of the month.

Advertising a Store Is a Business Matter

A store's advertising is a store's newspaper. Printed in a newspaper—the natural channel of information for the people—a store's advertising wins a "following," this circle of readers, grows larger all the time.

The advertising carries to these people, and to the new recruits to the circle, news, information, suggestions, facts touching their purses. They come to look upon this store advertising as a source of business news, serviceable to them in their buying tasks.

If a store uses a page of space in which to present its news, that space should not be curtailed because of the "scarcity of store news" at any particular time. If but a column is used, it should never be cut down. Your store's newspaper—which is its advertisement—should not only always be a complete store newspaper, but it should appear with as unfailing regularity as does the newspaper in which it is printed.

This newspaper could not hold its friends if, on "dull days" it failed to issue; or, on other days, issued in such an abridged form and size as to lose its identity. And this applies with equal force to a store's advertising.

"BROADWAY AFTER DARK"

"If the white lips of every betrayed girl would speak they would say that there is no woman of whom tickle nerves so quickly as the woman who has given all, and that it is the woman with hard close shut hands that holds the hearts of men, not the soft, generous, open-handed woman who can never say 'no' to the man she loves."

Dorothy Dix.

It has ever been thus since the world began. It is a lesson that has been taught since first the soft eye of a girl rested upon the strong face of a man. Each girl knows it and has been taught in it. The lesson has been whispered, and prayed to her. But either she flings it away in the first engulfing thrill of fascination or she says to herself, "It has happened to millions, millions less wise, less justified, less sanctified than I. But it shall not happen to me. It cannot—love is too sweet to sting."

And then it happens. That inevitable, deadly consequence of natural but unholy love comes stealing in the night. And in the morning comes the terrifying, crushing awakening. And there is panic and there is desperation.

Then comes the tragedy—the scandals, the deaths, the ruined names, the runaways, the fear to face the hard features of the world—a world of sinners with no charity for the sinner.

See Halton Powell's production of "Broadway After Dark," a realistic expose of life on the great "White Way" at the Opera House on Thursday evening. Seats now on sale.

THE WHAT YOU MAY COLUMN HOLES

Theoretically the hole is a void, a vacancy, nothing. Practically it is one of the most troublesome things in life.

We dodge holes from the cradle to the grave, or Nineteen-Seventeen speaking, from the Pacific to the Crematory.

Take the merest infant. One of the first things it does is discover the hole in its face and try to climb in it. Life particularly with socks, is just one darned hole after another. And in our time roofs, rowboats, pavements, stoves, pans, stomachs and bank accounts we find them. Holes holes, holes. Coal holes, rat holes, post holes nail holes and mud holes there are but a few of many.

Yet let us not condemn the hold indiscriminately. Else how would we get our feet in our shoes? Or strain our cranberries? What would our golf links be without them? And where would we go from cyclones?

The hole subject is deep. The world is, as you might say, full of them; and we mortals must deal with each hole as we come to it.

REMAINS BROUGHT HOME

The remains of Milton R. Lawhead, the five years old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ira W. Lawhead, who died at Akron, Ohio, Sunday morning, January 7, 1917 at 11 o'clock, were brought to Clearfield on the 1:35 P. M. train last evening and taken to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Grover Baughman, on Fulton street. The funeral will be held from there on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and interment will be made at Centre cemetery.

The little fellow had been a sufferer for about four weeks previous to his death. He was first taken down with inflammatory rheumatism, which affected his heart and his death was caused by a general physical breakdown.

Carefully Treat Children's Colds

Neglect of children's colds often lays the foundation of serious lung trouble. On the other hand, it is harmful to continually dose delicate little stomachs with internal medicines or to keep the children always indoors.

Plenty of fresh air in the bedroom and a good application of Vicks Vapo-Rub™ Salve over the throat and chest at the first sign of trouble, will keep the little chaps free from colds without injuring their digestion. 25c, 50c, or $1.00.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, JANUARY 10, 1917

Wonder what difference there is between "Broadway after Dark" and "Market (Clearfield) after Dark."

Kenesaw Mountain Landis Reubenstein Is Label says a North American headline this morning. Sounds to us more like a libel.

The Opera House Management announces that they are bringing "Civilization" to Clearfield the later part of this month. We thought we had it. Some nerve they have.

Wouldn't it be a relief to be rid of Harry K. Thaw, Thomas W. Lawson and Lloyd George in the news? We do not mean to put them all in the same class but we would prefer to hear something about some others once in a while.

Having the interests of the citizens at heart, Mr. W. I. Betts is the logical man to head the Chamber of Commerce for the coming year, and so much more from the fact that the policy as outlined by its members is one with which he is wholly in accord.

Old Man Booze is surely getting "groggy". Waller after wallop has been handed to him during the past few weeks. He is down and the referee has counted eight. Chief Justice White handed him a beauty and the Senate followed it up with a sure enough solar plexus.

Old Rip woke up about Guinea Hill, casually rubbed his eyes and remarked, "It smells old fashioned about here. I wonder where I am." Walking down the hill, he saw a myriad of small specks and decided to investigate. Coming closer to town he was overjoyed to find it was the lights of Clearfield, no brighter than they were twenty years ago.

We do so love to pick our steps across the street to the Post Office, then up Market and across to the Denning, then across to the Court House, then across to No. 1 Fire Company and continue on our rounds about town. It reminds us of boyhood days when "Old Boesey" got loose in the barnyard and we had to plout right through to get the manger rope around her neck. Talk about getting back to nature. The stock raiser has nothing on us.

The Pennsylvania State Legislature was in session one day thus far in the session of 1917 and the reports of the State Treasurer's office show that our impecunious lawmakers have already "horned into" the pay chest for an advance of $76,500 on their salaries for the term. The average Pennsylvania legislator may not know much law but little about anything else, but nobody on earth can eat him to the "public tit" for his share of "pap."

SAFE AND SANE

There was no crashing of cymbals, no circus publicity, no red fire, no lunch to beguile the uninterested, not even a free smoke was handed out as about two score whole hearted workers in the body of the Chamber of Commerce met last evening and unanimously decided to continue the organization and decided on a policy of civic work for Clearfield during the coming year. It sounds to us like getting down to brass tacks. The Chamber of Commerce is something more than a raiser of smoke stacks and an organization confined to merchants. The professional man and the worker will benefit by the program mapped out for the future.

TO DARKEN HAIR

APPLY SAGE TEA

Look Young! Bring Back Its Natural Color, Gloss and Attractiveness

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and brilliant. Just a few applications will prove revelation if your hair is falling, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is a trouble some. An easier way is to get a 50-cent bottle of Wyck's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While waxy, gray faded hair is not sinful we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyck's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time by moving all gray hairs have disappeared, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.

This preparation is a delightful and yet temperate and is not liable to the entire eradication or prevention of disease.

LES DAVEY NOW AN ACTOR

Trouton, N. J., Jan. 10.—The Australian champion pugilist, Les Davey, at a local theater this afternoon according to the published figures. Davey is to receive $5,000 a week, which is the largest salary ever paid a pugilist for appearing on the stage. The tour is to include brief engagements in Philadelphia, Boston, Providence, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Detroit, Chicago, Cincinnati, St. Paul and a number of other of the principal cities of the country.

LABOR WILL FIGHT POLICE INCREASE

Pittsburgh, Jan. 10.—Legislation will be introduced early in the next session to provide for two additional state police, probably two new troops or perhaps to divide the men equally among the four existing troops.

This will be one of the big battles of the assembly. Organized labor is bitterly opposed to the organization because of strike duty. There are about forty unions now in Pennsylvania, most of which are in the coal fields. The police matter was one of the operations which the state federation of labor submitted to all candidates for the legislature last year.

ANITA STEWART SAYS -

(COPYRIGHT 1915 VITAPHONE)

THAT UNFORGETTABLE FIRST WHITE-UP

"I'll never forget even if I live to be a thousand years, the first interview that I ever gave. I was sitting in the girl's dressing-room at the Vitaphone studios making up for my second role of some importance after "The Wood Violet" my first goal on the ladder of success.

Well, as I said, I was making up the make-up, I was in the general dressing room and told me that a representative from one of the motion picture magazines was outside and wanted to interview me.

"What about?" said I looking up a little puzzled.

"I don't know, dear—you'd better ask her to come in for yourself," said the girl with a smile for she knew that if I didn't quite realize what was expected of me I would no more at ease.

Going to the door in answer to a knock I found a very sweet young girl outside who said she just wanted to talk to me for a while. So many wonderful things had happened to me about that time that nothing puzzled me long.

"Why come right in," I answered trying to appear cordial, for I knew in what a chaotic condition the girls had left the big dressing-room, while the maizinge woman looked so neat and cool. "I'm afraid you won't find things very orderly here but the girls are in such a hurry when they get a call that things do get a bit confused."

Then she talked until my director sent for me. I couldn't tell you a single thing I had said a minute after she left the room.

However when I saw the article in a magazine a short time afterward it all came back to me, and I'll keep the story always as a memory of my first interview.

The interviews are very different now, for I have a dear little dressing-room to myself where I can chat while I offer my visitor a little afternoon tea or refreshment. But, do you know, the first interview will always be the best to me, no matter how wonderful other interviews may be. My memory of it will ever be indelible and pleasant. In the line of interviews it is my "first love."

TRIUMPH OF NORMA TAYLOR IN NEW PLAY

Triangle Star Sacrifices Appearance and Reputation in role to be shown at the Opera House Friday Night

In "The Social Secretary" the Triangle feature to be shown at the Opera House on Friday evening, Norma Talmage is starred in a play entirely different from any of the others in which she has appeared and in a part which is both unique and interesting.

She is seen as a beautiful young woman who has to earn her own living and is pestered by the unrelenting attention of every man for whom she works. After having left a half dozen positions on account of these persistent persecutions she answers the advertisement of a wealthy woman who wants a social secretary.

Before doing so she dresses her self in such a way that no one would suspect her of being beautiful. She pulls her hair straight back, puts on heavy rimmed round glasses, paints away every line on her face and turns off the general effect by wearing a completely ugly dress and shoes. She gets the job and finds in the household where she is employed a son and a daughter, the former the victim of bad habits, the latter about to sell herself to a very poor specimen of foreign nobility for his somewhat tarnished title.

After many complications and adventures in which she sacrifices her reputation to save the daughter, she saves all besides clearing her name and winning a husband in the bargain. 4,10-26

"THE MISSING CHAPTER"

Special at the Globe Theatre Tomorrow

Giving His Bond—To save the girl he loves Race ventures on Life's precipice.

Unknown to the girl, he sacrifices the girl and goes his way.

Frantic with exceptional heart-breaking values and sensational realism, this adventure shows what a great and brilliant Christopher Kane, Johnson and good fellow, head over heels in love.

To see how he wins the admiration of his uncle, and captures the girl of his dreams, after a thrilling adventure and a more thrilling one, comes, makes a happy, fiery, wonderful romance. You must see the last one to see them all together.

"The Ten Minutes" the local talent comedy for benefit of No. 1 Fire company will be shown at the Clearfield Opera House January 22nd and 23rd.

Jump from Bed in Morning and Drink Hot Water

Tells why everyone should drink hot water each morning before breakfast.

Why is man and woman, half the time, feeling nervous, despondent, worried; some days headache, dull and untrusting; some days really incapacitated by illness.

If we would all practice inside-bathing, what a gratifying change would take place. Instead of thousands of half-sick, anaemic-looking souls with listless, muddy complexions, we should see crowds of happy, healthy, rosy-checked people everywhere. The reason is that the human system does not rid itself each day of all the waste which it accumulates under our present mode of living. For every ounce of food and drink taken into the system, an ounce of waste material must be carried out, else it ferments and forms poisonous poisons which are absorbed into the blood.

Just as necessary as it is to clean the ashes from the furnace each day, before the fire will burn bright and hot, so we must, each morning, clear the inside organs of the previous day's accumulation of indigestible waste and body toxins. Man and woman, whether sick or well, are advised to drink each morning, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a tablespoonful of limestone phosphate in it, as a harmless means of washing out of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the indigestible material, waste, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Millions of people who had their turn at constipation, bilious attacks, acid stomach, nervous days and sleepless nights have become real cranks about the morning inside bath. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will not cost much at the drug store, but is sufficient to demonstrate to anyone, its cleansing, sweetening and freshening effect upon the system.

SAYS MAN SHOULD NOT MARRY UNTIL HE'S 100

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 10.—Because women forgets to have birth days the wiser than man, W. Earl Flynn, health evangelist, told this to his followers here.

"Any man who has a birthday after he is forty is a fool," Flynn declared. Flynn, who is 84, said the rule is not fair, that when men would not think of getting married until they were one hundred years old.

"If a man takes care of himself, he will stay in a big way when he passes the century mark," the fully Sunday of Flynn said. "He'll at that age be old enough to get married."

REMAINS BROUGHT HOME

The remains of Milton R. Lawhead, the five years old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ira W. Lawhead, who died at Akron, Ohio, Sunday morning, January 7, 1917 at 11 o'clock, were brought to Clearfield on the 1:35 P. M. train last evening and taken to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Grover Baughman, on Fulton street. The funeral will be held from there on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and interment will be made at Centre cemetery.

The little fellow had been a sufferer for about four weeks previous to his death. He was first taken down with inflammatory rheumatism, which affected his heart and his death was caused by a general physical breakdown.

COMMISSION MERCHANTS "NOT GUILTY"

Philadelphia Pa., Jan. 10—A denial that they are responsible for the present high prices of food products and a discussion of plans to combat the nation-wide movement to eliminate the middleman, promises to feature the twenty-fifth annual convention of the National League of Commission Merchants, which is being held in this city today, or a three-day session. The convention is attended by prominent representatives of the commission trade from nearly all the three cities of the country.
